

ALESSANDRO ROMANELLI

FULL-STACK JAVASCRIPT WEB DEVELOPER

INTRODUCTION

Hi! My name is Alessandro and I'm a very young, passionate web-developer and long life learner. I am on the constant lookout for a challenge or the next chapter of my development career. I always take the chance to step up to lead a team in a positive way and towards a common goal.

EXPERIENCE

Freelancer Web-Developer

December 2016 — September 2017

Learning the web-technologies from the very basics I followed a Team Treehouse course to achieve a Techdegree as a Full-Stack Javascript Web-developer.

Game Developer

June 2017 — September 2017

After spending countless hours in videogames I joined a small but fast-growing community busy porting old videogame assets on a newer platform by means of porting.

Army Officer

October 2014 — November 2016

I served in the Swiss Armed Forces for almost two years, where I was granted the rank of 1st Lieutenant and where I had the chance to lead a group composed of up to 60 people.

SKILLS

EDUCATION

USI — University of Lugano

September 2017 — Present

Not satisfied by what the web development gave me, I decided to enroll and study Informatics at USI to get a BSc and possibly a master and learn more about the fascinating world of computers.
